2006 SEASON OUTLOOK

hris Beerman knows what a winning team looks like. Now entering his 11th season as a head volleyball coach at the collegiate level, Beerman has won over 67% of his matches with a 207-101 career mark.

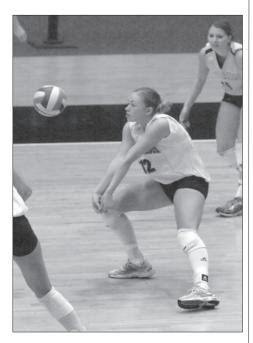

Seven years ago, he was welcomed to Pitt to revive a once-proud volleyball program that had grown stagnant. Beerman has not disappointed in rising to the challenge, fashioning an impressive 117-65 (64.3%) mark over the last six years.

Given Beerman's track record of success, it's easy to imagine that his current 2006 team edition will be in the thick of the Big East race again this year. Under Beerman's watch, the Panthers are annually vying for conference champion-ships and NCAA Tournament berths.

Pitt finished 17-13 overall last season and fourth in the competitive Big East with a 9-5 mark. Four starters from that team, though, including Megan McGrane, one of the best in recent memory, have graduated leaving one senior and a team of underclassmen.

The Panthers may be without overall experience but not without high aspirations.

"This team is here to win another championship," Beerman said. "They're hungry for that. They understand the sacrifice and discipline that goes into it. I don't have to convince them about winning the championship. These are goals they have for themselves.

Junior Diana Andreyko was a 2005 All-Big East First Team selection and AVCA All-Northeast Honorable Mention. She led the Panthers in kills, attempts and service aces.

"This is a competitive and goal-oriented group. I think in the past we've had more of a top-down model. Now, it's a full group with the attitude and motivation to win and be a Top-25 team by season's end.

"But they're young, and they're going to have to work toward those goals. Mentally, they're ahead of where they are physically, but that's a good thing."

OUTSIDE HITTERS

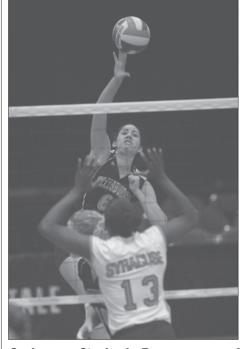

Pitt will return its top outside hitter this season along with two sophomores, a redshirt freshman and a transfer. Though the Panthers may seem young, there is talent at this position and opportunity for players to step up as leaders.

Junior DIANA ANDREYKO was named a 2006 All-Big East preseason selection by a unanimous vote. She will lead the Panthers at this position after an impressive 2005 season. Andreyko earned first team all-conference honors and an AVCA All-Northeast Region honorable mention after leading the Panthers in kills (516), attacks (1,352) and service aces (53). She registered at least 10 kills in all but one match during the season. She tied the record for the second-most kills in school history and earned three all-tournament team honors.

"In Diana, we obviously have a great player coming back that has established herself as one of the best outside hitters in the conference," Beerman said. "She's very powerful and explosive. I think she's very dynamic and has a lot of charisma, but she needs to reduce her errors a bit. Once she does that, she'll have a complete package."

Vying for playing time will be sophomore STEPHANIE ROSS who was only one of three Pitt players to appear in all 30 matches last year. Ross made 12 starts as a right-side hitter and sees time as a reserve back-row player. She ranked second on the squad with 28 aces and .26 average.

"Stephanie is a ready-made volleyball player – savvy, a lot of knowledge, a lot of skill and a history of playing the game," said Beerman. "A year in the weight room with Kim King and our strength program has just changed her completely. Now she's prepared to be a great player for us."

Sophomore Stephanie Ross was one of three Pitt players to appear in all 30 matches last season, making 10 starts as a right-side hitter and occasionally a back-row player as well.

Also battling for a position will be sophomore MONICA MACELLARI, who made 10 appearances as a freshman, including the first two starts of her career at the Pitt Invitational. She totaled a seasonbest six kills, six digs, two aces and two blocks in Pitt's win over American on September 10.

"I expect Monica to make a name for herself and challenge for a position either at the outside or right-side hitting positions this fall," said Beerman. "She's very strong, athletic and quick for her size. She made great strides last year and through the spring. I think her confidence is much higher now, and she is hungry to play."

Sophomore KELLY CAMPBELL joins the Panthers after transferring from Pacific. She completed her freshman campaign with 37 kills, nine digs and five blocks while playing 22 games for the Tigers. She ranked fifth on the team with a .182 hitting percentage.

"Kelly's a great addition to our program," Beerman said. "She's very dynamic, very competitive and just our type of player. There's a connection there with what she's about and what we're about. She's very strong, and I think she'll be a fan favorite right away because of the velocity of her spikes. She combines that with being very quick and a very good ball control player."

The fifth Panther competing for playing time is redshirt freshman MELISSA STADLEMAN. A local walk-on, Stadleman used her first season to gain the strength needed to become a powerful player.

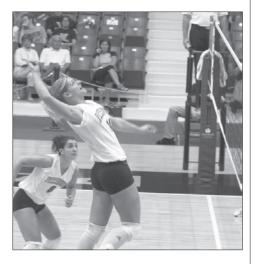

"We're lucky she was able to redshirt this past year," said Beerman. "She now starts out with four years of eligibility. The strength training has been remarkable for her. Now, her biggest challenge will be how good of a volleyball player she can be. She's a great kid and teammate who's a hard worker. She never has a bad practice."

MIDDLE HITTERS

Pitt only has one veteran at the middle hitter position and will introduce two new freshmen to the lineup in 2006. However, the talent and determination runs thick and could provide for some exciting opportunities in the upcoming season.

JESSICA MOSES is the Panthers' veteran starter at middle hitter, following a rookie campaign which included 22 matches and 14 starts. She was among team leaders with in hitting percentage (.229) and ranked third on the team in blocks (61). She set career highs in block assists (seven) and total blocks (eight) in the Panthers' matchup against Duke.

"Jessica probably had the most improved spring of anyone," Beerman said. "We were looking for a leader with this young group, and she emerged as someone who we can count on for that. She took the bull by the horns this spring and made it her team. She's a blue-collar worker and everything a middle blocker should be. She's a non-stop engine that keeps on going and is always competing."

The Panthers will also welcome two freshmen to this position in 2006. MEAGAN DOOLEY of West Chester, Ohio, arrives after earning all-state accolades and the Greater Miami Conference Athlete of the Year award in 2005-06. She earned all-tournament honors after leading her club team to a third-place finish at the U-17 national championships.

"Meagan is probably the most highprofile recruit we've ever had," said Beerman. "She's a well-known player who's really expecting to be an impact player for us. She's very dynamic, strong and explosive. She's played at the highest level of competition in this country through the club system. I'm expecting huge things from Megan, and I know she has the same expectations, too. I would consider her a real impact freshman coming in for us this year."

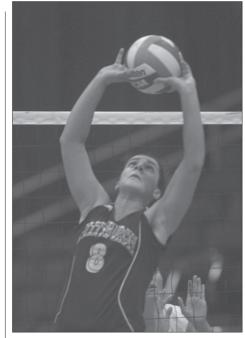

Also competing for some playing time at this position is KIM KERN of Bradenton, Florida. Kern completed her senior season with 241 kills, 208 digs and 79 blocks. She was a Florida Class 5A all-state selection after leading her team to the regional playoffs.

"Kim is a player we discovered late, and boy, I'm glad we did," Beerman said. "I compare her to Megan Miller who was the Big East Player of the Year and came in as an extremely raw, non-volleyball player and developed over time with her athletic ability into the most dominating middle hitter we've ever had in this program. I think Kim Kern is the same type of competitor and athlete. She's really the type of person who could use a year to get better or with quick development could actually participate this year and really be an impact player for us."

SETTERS

The position of starting setter should be another battle this season with senior AZADEH BOROUMAND and sophomore NICOLE TAURENCE both competing for the spot. Boroumand has more experience, now entering her final season, but Taurence stepped up as a rookie last year and earned conference recognition for her play.

Boroumand played in 19 matches last season and started in 10. She ranked second on the team with 498 assists, including a season-best 58 in the quarterfinals of the Big East Tournament. She additionally made the most of her attacks, converting on 51 kills with just 16 errors in 104 attempts for a team-best .337 hitting percentage.

"Azadeh's our one senior and the only link back to the '03 season when we won the championship," said Beerman. "She's really got to be a leader for us. I'm really anxious, and I know she is too, to get her out there. I know she wants to finish on a really high note with this young group, and I think this will be her best year by far."

Taurence appeared in 23 matches and made 20 starts in 2005. She was named the Big East Rookie of the Week on October 3 for her efforts in the wins over USF and Georgetown. Taurence had 92 assists and 14 digs in seven games against those two teams and became the fourth Pitt player to earn the Big East's weekly honor. She broke a Pitt freshman record with 69 assists in the five-set win over Rutgers and led the team with 855 assists on the season.

"Nicole came in as a freshman, and I hadn't planned on starting her or playing her that much," Beerman said. "I thought it was going to be a season of training for her, but she ended up playing the majority of the Big East season and performed great. Getting the experience last year made her very hungry to keep playing."

LIBERO/DEFENSIVE SPECIALIST

With the graduation of Megan McGrane, Pitt will introduce its second libero since the NCAA initiated the position. Freshman MICHELLE ROSSI of Cleveland, Ohio, will take over the role after averaging 3.5 kills and 4.7 digs per game as a high school senior. An all-district honoree and three-time All-North Coast League selection, Rossi additionally played for the Ohio High Performance Team, which placed third nationally in 2003.

"It's funny because we had McGrane who's such a legend and started the position as libero, so I'd say the next person coming in has a lot of pressure," said Beerman. "The one person that I felt would be able to handle it is Michelle, and that's high praise I know. But Michelle is a very tough competitor, and she's also been a long-time libero. We looked at almost every libero in the country coming out of high school, and I thought she was the best."

Junior MELISSA FERGUSON returns as a defensive specialist for the upcoming season. She saw action in 22 matches last year and set a career-high two service aces against West Virginia. She also played a critical role in the Panthers' win over Notre Dame.

"Melissa's great at staying focused on the sideline," Beerman said. "And when you need her, she delivers. I think that is the one thing I can say about Melissa. She is a clutch player. Whenever I need her, I can count on her. It's the ready to come off the bench, play in any given spot and do a good job that makes her a great volleyball player."

THE SCHEDULE

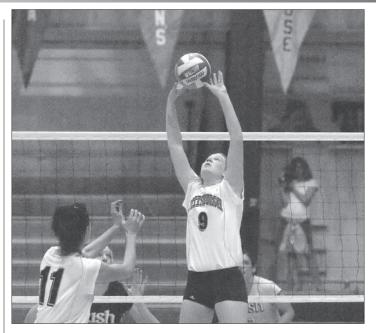

The Panthers start their schedule early this season, cutting preseason practice short. But the change is something Beerman welcomes, saying he prefers to play teams because it's the best way for him to evaluate his team's potential.

Pitt will start off with the Magnolia Invitational hosted by Ole Miss. The Panthers will face Southeast Missouri State and Arkansas-Little Rock for the first time and Western Carolina and the Rebels for just the second time. The team will then travel to the Rhode Island Invitational where it will take on the Rams, Akron and Northeastern – teams they have had success against in the past.

In September, the Panthers will host the annual Pitt Invitational which features Tennessee, Lehigh and Marshall. "Our home tournament is phenomenal," Beerman said. "We've got a Final Four team coming [with Tennessee]. We also have Marshall, who won the Conference USA crown and an up and coming Lehigh team. I hope we can draw a large crowd for that one because it's not too often that you get to see a Final Four team in your home gym."

The final tournament for Pitt will be the Wildcat Classic hosted by Northwestern and featuring teams from Arizona and Eastern Illinois. Arizona had a lot of success in 2005, earning a spot as a top 10 team, and Eastern Illinois continues to have a growing program.

The Panthers open up conference play with a September 22 matchup against St. John's at the Fitzgerald Field House. Pitt will also host Connecticut, Georgetown, USF, Cincinnati and Louisville this season. They'll travel to Rutgers, Villanova, West Virginia, Marquette, Syracuse, Seton Hall, Notre Dame and DePaul.

In her first season with the Panthers, Nicole Taurence led the team with 855 assists and an average of 10.96 per game.

Beerman feels confident about Pitt's place within the expanded Big East Conference. While Notre Dame has had success in the past few years, they're not the clear-cut favorite entering this year's schedule. Cincinnati and Marquette return a lot of their players while 2005 powerhouse Louisville will have a fairly new team. As far as Beerman is concerned, the Big East title is up for grabs and the Panthers are hoping to make a run for it.

"We're a team that's always striving to be at the top when it's all said and done," Beerman said. "To be an NCAA team, you have to play other NCAA teams. You have to be in a position where your RPI is high enough, just like any other sport. We always want to position ourselves, whether we win the Big East or come in second or third, that we're still an at-large opportunity for the NCAA tournament.

"Plus, I think my players wouldn't have it any other way. They want to play the best competition. They always have with their club teams in high school. They'd be disappointed if we put together a schedule that was considerably weak."

here is no second guessing which direction Pitt volleyball head coach Chris Beerman has the program heading. Six years and 100 wins after he was hired prior to the 2000 season, the Panthers have made back-to-back NCAA Tournament appearances, won a Big East title and have won numerous conference and regional honors. It all adds up to a resurgence in a program that is rich in volleyball history. Watch Beerman at work and it's easy to be overcome with an unmistakable optimism.

Point Pitt - Beerman jumps to his feet from a chair on the Panthers' bench, shouting words of approval. Point opponent - Beerman is up again but this time his words are instructional and encouraging, trying to will his team to regain the serve. It may be hard to tell by just looking at Beerman whether his team is winning or losing during the match but it's easy to understand how passionate he is about the game of volleyball and how eager he is to coach the sport.

Entering his seventh year at Pitt, Beerman completed a turnaround he set out to complete when he was hired two days before Christmas in 1999.

A runner-up in 2004 and the 2003 champions in the Big East Tournament, the Panthers have earned two NCAA berths since Beerman has been at the helm. Their advance into the 2004 NCAAs came from an atlarge bid – the ultimate sign of respect for a volleyball team.

Pitt finished 17-13 in 2005 and tied for fourth in the Big East. The team had three All-Big East selections and senior Megan McGrane earned her second "Big East Libero of the Year" award and an AVCA All-America honorable mention. His team continued to re-write both the Pitt and NCAA record books as McGrane became the school's all-time leader in digs nearly 1,000 ahead of everyone else, and she ranked fourth among Division I players. Diana Andreyko tied the then Big-East record for kills and is leading the books with a record of eight service aces in a game. Nicole Taurence broke the Pitt freshman record with 69 assists in the five-set win over Rutgers.

Pitt won 26 games in 2004 and enjoyed its best winning percentage (.813) since finishing 32-6 in 1990, which was also the only other time the Panthers advanced to the second round of the NCAA Tournament.

The Panthers won the 2003 Big East championship with a 3-0 victory over defending champion Notre Dame at the Joyce Center in South Bend. It was the first time a Big East team had defeated the Fighting Irish on their home court — ever. Beerman's team then advanced to its first NCAA Tournament since 1994 and defeated the Penn Quakers, 3-1, before falling to host Penn State in four games in the second round.

For his efforts, Beerman was named the Big East Co-Coach of the Year and the Tachikara/AVCA Northeast Region Coach of the Year by his peers.

"I consider this team an NCAA team now," Beerman said. "Once you get that first at-large berth, you have to think that way. You have to schedule your matches that way, and we have to play that way."

The revival of the program, though, began a year earlier. After injuries depleted the 2001 Panthers, the program suffered through its first losing season. Beerman led the 2002 team to a 20-9 overall record and a 9-4 mark in Big East play, tying for fourth in the conference. If not for an early season loss to Connecticut, the Panthers would have been playing in the Big East postseason tournament against two teams it defeated in the regular season.

In his first year as head coach in 2000, Beerman helped Pittsburgh to its best season in six years as the Panthers posted a 22-10 overall mark. In 2001, Pittsburgh finished just out of the postseason tournament with a 7-5 mark in conference play and a fifth-place standing.

That's a total of four 20-win seasons and a total of 100 wins in his five years at Pitt. Ten players have earned a total of 15 All-Big East honors from 2000-04.

Not only was Beerman's impact evident in the final standings, but the effect he has on the players as a whole is unmistakable. The Pittsburgh record books have been shattered with performance after performance. Megan Miller, Wendy Hatlestad, Sarah Rollman, Megan McGrane, Carrie Norris, Stacy Renick, Marcia Thiesen and Gini Ullery all thrived under Beerman, while current players Diana Andreyko and Nicole Taurence have already etched their names all over the Pitt record books.

In 2004, Miller was named the Big East's Most Valuable Player while Diana Andreyko was the conference and region Rookie of the Year. In 2003, Hatlestad was the Big East MVP, Miller earned Most Outstanding Player honors in the Big East Championships, and McGrane was named the inaugural Libero of the Year and claimed the award again in 2005.

Beerman, who is just the sixth coach in Pitt volleyball history, boasts a successful track record as both a player and coach. His background, coupled with an unbridled enthusiasm and energy, made him the perfect choice to lead the Panthers back into the national spotlight.

"I approached this from the very beginning as a building process," Beerman said. "We had to rebuild as a volleyball program when I got here in 2000 and we've been able to get positive results from that process.

"It's a totally different situation than it was here five years ago. We're entering into a reloading year. Even though we lost significant contributors to our run the past two years, we have the talent to continue making the NCAA Tournament and advancing further."

Beerman joined Pittsburgh after serving four seasons (1996-99) as head coach at James Madison University, where he led the Dukes to their first-ever NCAA Tournament appearance and four straight winning seasons.

He guided the Dukes to a 90-36 overall record and a 35-7 mark in the Colonial Athletic Association (CAA), which included an impressive 22-0 home record against conference foes. He led his teams to three 20-win seasons at JMU, including 1999's best-ever record of 26-7, which featured a berth in the NCAA Tournament.

In his first year at the helm of the Dukes in 1996, Beerman orchestrated the biggest turnaround of any NCAA team that season when he guided his squad to a 25-9 record after finishing 9-18 in the prior year.

At JMU, Beerman garnered two conference coach of the year awards (1998 and 1999), produced one CAA Player of the Year (1999) in Lindsay Collingwood, a pair of CAA Rookie of the Year honorees, nine first-team and five second-team selections, as well as five first-team all-state awards. Additionally, his teams captured two regular season CAA championships (1998 and 1999) and the 1999 tournament championship.

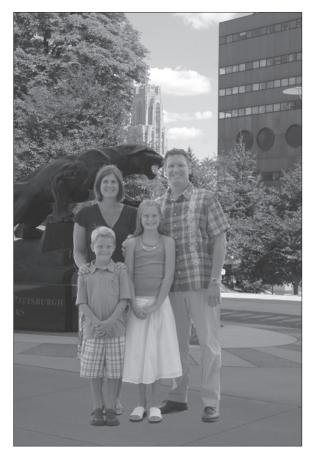

Prior to JMU, Beerman has had stints as an assistant coach at two of the universities joining the Big East Conference in 2005. He served one season (1995) as an assistant at the University of Louisville where he helped the team to the second round of the NCAA Tournament and the Conference USA title.

Beerman also served three years as the assistant coach at the University of South Florida from 1991-94. While there, the Bulls were the 1993 Metro Conference champions and earned a berth in the NCAA tournament.

A standout player at Ball State from 1986-90, Beerman served as an assistant at his alma mater from 1990-91. As a collegiate player, he helped the Cardinals to three NCAA Final Four appearances and three Midwestern Intercollegiate Volleyball Association (MIVA) championships from 1988-90. He also was a two-time Volleyball Monthly All-America honoree and an All-MIVA selection.

Beerman holds eight records at Ball State, including 1,047 career digs, which ranks second all-time in the NCAA. ASSISTANT COACHES

JASON KEPNER

Assistant Coach Penn State, 1997

ason Kepner, an All-American during his collegiate career at Penn State, is entering his fifth year as an assistant coach with the Panthers.

Kepner's responsibilities include serving as the Panthers' inhouse recruiting coordinator and arranging team travel. He also assists with the Panthers' camps and on-court training.

For the upcoming season, he has helped recruit what this staff believes to be their most talented group of recruits to date. "We'll be young, but we'll be a team that can compete in every match we play," said Kepner. "I'm excited for this year. It's a new beginning, and we've got a good group coming in."

While part of the Pittsburgh staff, Kepner has helped guide the Panthers to a conference title and two players to be named "Big East Player of the Year." Under his guidance, Pitt student-athletes have captured conference honors every year. He's additionally been part of a staff that's never had a losing season, compiling a record of 84-39.

In 2005, he helped coach three Panthers to All-Big East honors and Megan McGrane and Diana Andreyko to AVCA regional honors. The recruiting class he helped to obtain made an immediate impact as setter Nicole Taurence earned Big East Rookie of the Week honors on October 3. Additionally, Jessica Moses developed into the team's leading blocker. His 2006 class is projected to make similar contributions with Michelle Rossi starting at libero and Meagan Dooley, one of the nation's top recruits, vying for some playing time at middle hitter. Kepner joined the Panthers from Nicholls State, where he served as an assistant coach for the 2001 season. There, he was responsible for assisting with the planning and organizing of all phases of the volleyball program, including recruiting, practice and match preparation as well as monitoring student-athletes' academics.

Prior to Nicholls State, Kepner served as the head coach of the Club Vegas Girls 18's from 2000-01 and the Las Vegas Volleyball Club Boys 18's from 1998-2000.

Kepner enjoyed an outstanding playing career as an outside hitter at Penn State (1993-97), where he earned AVCA and Volleyball Magazine All-America (second team) honors as a senior in 1997. A member of the 1994 National Championship team, Kepner ranks fourth all-time for the Nittany Lions with 88 career service aces. He is also among the all-time leaders in digs and kills in Penn State annals.

In addition, Kepner boasts a wealth of international playing experience. Following his collegiate career, he played professionally in Holland (1997-98) and was a member of the USA National B Team that competed in the 1997 World University Games in Sicily. Kepner was also a member of the USA Junior National Team in 1991 and was a first team All-American and Silver Division MVP as a member of the 1995 USA Open Nationals Team Reston.

Kepner is a 1997 graduate of Penn State with a bachelor's degree in administration of justice.

ASSISTANT COACHES

ALIJA PITTENGER

Assistant Coach Michigan, 2001

lija Pittenger joined the Panthers' coaching staff in 2003 and is in her fourth season as an assistant coach. In her last three years with the Panthers, she's helped coach them to a Big East conference title and two consecutive NCAA tournament appearances.

"I'm excited for this year, and I think it's going to be a lot of fun," said Pittenger. "Practices should be exciting because everyone has a chance to play this year."

In her time with the Panthers, Pittenger has helped build a program with a hard-working, blue-collar mentality. Throughout her tenure, Pitt student-athletes have captured numerous conference and regional honors each year.

Last season she helped guide three Panthers to All-Big East honors and Megan McGrane to a Big East "Libero of the Year" award and AVCA All-America honors. In 2004, she coached the team to an at-large NCAA berth and in 2003 to the Big East Conference title.

Pittenger came to the Panthers from the University of Southern Indiana, where she served as an assistant coach for the 2002 season. While at Southern Indiana, Pittenger assisted in all aspects of the program and helped lead the Screaming Eagles to a conference tournament championship and a berth in the NCAA Division II tournament. Southern Indiana advanced to the second round of the NCAAs in 2002.

Before her coaching experience at Southern Indiana, Pittenger was an undergraduate assistant coach at Michigan, her alma mater, in 2001. She helped facilitate the implementation of efficient and effective practices and also assisted in the training of the defensive specialists.

As a collegiate player with the Wolverines, Pittenger was a four-time letterwinner as an outside hitter and setter and helped Michigan to its first top 25 national ranking in 2000 and to three NCAA Championship tournaments in 1997, 1999 and 2000.

Pittenger finished her senior year in 2000 as the team leader in digs and was second on the Wolverines in kills. She graduated from Michigan in December 2001 with a bachelor's degree in movement science.

Pittenger has also served as the head coach of the women's 18-and-under team at the Go Blue Volleyball Club in Ann Arbor in 2001.

MEGAN McGRANE

STUDENT ASSISTANT COACH PITTSBURGH, 2006

egan McGrane became something of a legend in her time at Pitt, and her story of how she rose to become one of the most successful players in school history is a testament to her determination and commitment to the sport and Pitt's program. She'll now join the staff as a student assistant where she can provide the leadership necessary for this young group of competitors.

"My role is primarily working with passers and defenders," said McGrane. "I'm really excited to have the opportunity to work with the team this year and see the game from a different perspective compared to what I previously had been exposed to as a player."

In her four years with the Panthers, McGrane was the starting libero and the first in the program's history. Her athletic accomplishments led her to two "Big East Libero of the Year" awards and All-America honors. McGrane finished her career with 2,424 digs, ranking her fourth among NCAA Division I players. She was a 2006 recipient of Pitt's prestigious Blue-Gold award and now has her named etched in the school's Varsity Walk.

McGrane owns the school record books when it comes to digs, pulling in top performances in a single match, season and career. She has registered nearly 1,000 more digs in her career than any other player in Pitt history.

A born leader, McGrane excelled both on and off the court, clinching numerous conference and regional accolades for her volleyball skills while also earning recognition as the Big East Scholar-Athlete of the Year. McGrane served as a leader among her peers as a Big East representative on the National Student-Athlete Advisory Committee and was selected for the NCAA's Competitive Safeguards and Medical Aspects of Sports Committee. Her accomplishments haven't gone unnoticed by anyone, as she was recently named the Big East's nomination for NCAA Woman of the Year in 2006.

McGrane is now pursuing her master's degree in exercise physiology after having received a post-graduate scholarship through the University of Pittsburgh.

PANTHER and BLUE-GOLD AWARDS

Libero Megan McGrane was named the winner of the prestigious Blue-Gold Award in the spring of 2006, presented to the graduating seniors who represent the student-athlete ideal based on academics, scholarship, athletic achievement, leadership qualities and citizenship. McGrane was the Panthers' only libero since the introduction of the position in 2002 and is the school's all-time leader in digs and ranks among the top four in NCAA Division I history in the category. She is also a four-time Big East Academic All-Star and University Scholar-Athlete.

Since 2001, Marcia Thiesen, Carrie Norris, Wendy Hatlestad and Megan Miller have also earned either the Blue-Gold or Panther Award. All of the Blue-Gold and Panther Award winners' names are embedded into the stones on a sidewalk between the Cathedral of Learning and Heinz Chapel.

The Pittsburgh women's volleyball team has had 10 winners of the Panther Award (outstanding athletic achievement) and seven Blue-Gold Award winners.
